Make a Holiday Recycling List

We've made a list, and we're checking it twice... a recycling list, that is! This season brings yet another yearly influx of non-recyclable holiday items to the RRRASOC Materials Recovery Facility (MRF). While mass shopping, over-consumption, and increased waste production are often to blame for this issue, these habits can be turned into waste-saving, eco-conscious decisions (did we mention this can save you time, energy, and money?). Read on to learn how some holiday items on our list can be handled at curbside or at a RRRASOC Recycling Drop-Off location.

Cardboard

Cardboard can be placed with your recycling, whether it's a box (flatten it to save room) or paperboard.

Wrapping Paper

This is recyclable as long as it does not contain glitter or foil. Try wrapping presents in newspaper or plain brown craft paper, which is always recyclable.

Disposable Dinnerware

Because most single-use dinnerware items are not recyclable due to size, coatings, etc., we suggest you switch to reusable plates, cups, and cutlery!

Holiday Lights

These can get tangled in the sorting machinery at the

These do not go with your recycling, but home improvement stores receipts are not recyclable because they have a coating to make them durable. They can be placed in your trash.

Greeting Cards

As long as they do not contain glitter, foil, or other non-paper accessories, your greeting cards are recyclable.

Tinsel & Ornaments

These are not recyclable, but they can be donated to another family member, your local charity, or a secondhand store to be reused.

Holiday Trees

It depends on the type of tree - real or artificial?
Check your city's sanitation page for information on curbside live tree collection. Artificial trees can be reused or donated.

For instructions on how to dispose of other common (or uncommon) holiday items, check out the Recycling Directory at RRRASOC.org. From there, you can search any item, view the event calendar, and so much more!

What is Plastic Film and Where Does It Go?

Plastic film makes up a lot of common, everyday single-use items, such as plastic grocery bags, cling wrap, water bottle cases, bread and newspaper bags, plastic shipping envelopes, bubble wrap, and shipping air packets.

Plastic bags and film are not accepted in curbside recycling or at the recycling drop-off sites in RRRASOC member communities. Plastic bags, wrap, and film can become tangled in the sorting machinery, leading to costly fixes and jams that slow output and production.

Luckily, there is something you can do to properly dispose of your plastic film: you can check your local grocery or retail store to see if they accept plastic bags, wrap, and film. Look for collection bins near the entrance or service area, where it will be collected and distributed to the right outlets who can reuse this type of material.

Do you store your recyclables in a plastic bag? Be sure to empty them into the bins at the Southfield and Novi drop-off sites so that the materials remain loose - then, keep the bag and reuse it!

Avoid Plastic Film Altogether!

Making the switch to reusable tote bags means you no longer have to deal with disposing of your plastic bags at a store!

While plastic film may be unavoidable with certain products, try to make the eco-conscious choice whenever possible. There are many products now that are reusable versions of single-use products, such as cloth produce bags, paper food storage bags, and durable food storage containers. Check your favorite store and make the switch!

Reminder: Curbside Holiday Service Delays

Christmas Day and New Year's Day both fall on a Monday this season, which means your curbside trash and recycling services will be delayed by one day in their respective weeks. Residents whose curbside collection normally occurs on Monday will have theirs on Tuesday, and so on.

We look forward to servicing you in the new year!
